Humphrey Endorses New Figure, But Opposes Tax Cuts

WASHINGTON U- The House Ways and Means committee today unanimously approved legislation fixing a legal ceiling of 278 billion dollars on the federal debt for the new fiscal year starting July 1.

The new ceiling is three billion dollars higher than the present permanent debt limit, but three billion dollars lower than the "temporary" ceiling which has been in force since August, 1954.

The temporary ceiling was due to expire June 30 Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey gave the administration's endorsement to the 278-billion-dollar figure in testimony before the committee immediately preceding its vote. He also reiterated the adminis tration's opposition to any tax relief this year. He said present budget estimates leave "no leeway" for tax cuts and any federal surplus should be applied to reduction of the debt.

Humphrey told the committee that the U S. economy does not presently need the stimulus that a tax cut would provide.

Humphrey reiterated his forecast of a month ago that the Treasury hopes to show a budget surplus of about $1,800,000.000 for the 1956 fiscal year which ends a week

HOW AMERICA WILL KEEP ITS LEAD IN ATOMIC-FI FCTRIC POWER

This is the way nations rate in nuclear reactors built or p (all types and for all purposes)

Great Britain	7	23
Russia	6	11
All others	10	14

In the past few months, the question has been "Is America behind in the development of atomic electric power?" The full facts answer "Me." And America's electric light and power industry, in full co-operation with other organizatiens in this country engaged in atomic research and development, will do its part to make sure

At the present time, for instance, the Atomic' Energy Commission, the electric companies and various other organizations have built, or are building or planning, more nuclear reactors than all other nations combined. More in number and And more promising for the future-for every reactor today is largely experimental, built to provide research in and knowledge of a whole new selence and a new technology.

Electricity from the atom

Much of this research and knowledge has a divest bearing on one of the atom's greatest promices, the production of electric power. Far more experimentation will be required to prove which of the many types of reactors are most efficient, mest werkable and most economical. But we are well on the way to finding out.

Ferencet in this experimentation is the basic and carried on by the Atomic Energy Commiscien. This research puts theories to the test, disporters how to design and build various types of seed provides the vital first tries that are seemy before larger and better reactors can ed and built. Already, these tests are separating the most promising from the least.

The most stop

Film and basic research-some of which is so being done by America's independent elecsies-the next step is big, full-size g taken, ton. The electric light and power already have 7 of these large atomictole plants on the way or under study. They, too, are experimental as far as their reactors go -for they include a number of different kinds of reactors and various designs. Until they pre operating experience, no one will know wi

The problem of producing electricity from the atom was solved long ago. But so long as we have adequate supplies of coal, oil and gas that can produce low-price electricity, it would be wasteful for America to build large numbers of atomic-electric power plants which could produce electricity only at high cost. Our objective should be economy and efficiency in reactor design and construction, without passing up any premising designs in our search. Progress toward this abjective is being made.

Electric companies build

More than 300 million dellars from judities ual, investors is involved in the pleaning and construction of atomic-electric plants and related research. A total of 44 electric companies is perticipating in building these reactor plants. In se doing, they are drawing on their industry's 75year experience in producing electricity from

To speed this program still further, American independent electric companies are ferming a special task force on atomic-electric reactors. The function and nature of this new group is described in the box below.

Still in testing stage

Because the U.S. goday has plenty of electric power and plenty of conventional fuels, the wise program is to test many reactors, types and designs and select the best. It will help assure our continuing lead in atomic development over coun-tries which are building atomic-electric plants with today's limited knowledge because they so desperately need electricity at any price.

Information like this about our nation's atomic-electric power program is important to you and others interested in the welfare of their country. It is important to you as a citizen and as an electric customer. Because this is so, reports of progress in atomic-electric power will be brought to you from time to time by America's Inde ent Electric Light and Power Compa miscolectric power is in its infancy. So varied are its possibilities will exceed a second and the possibilities will be evertened.

To make sure of this, America's electric light and power companies are ferming a technical appraisal task force to evaluate and stimulate research, development and construction that will advance the promise of economical and practical electric power. This task force will be composed of some of the nation's leading nuclear engineers and existing, as well as leaders in the electric industry.

The findings of this task force, as well as as other experience and knowledge of America's power companies in the field of nuclear reactors, will be shared with any group dedicated to the objective of maintaining American leadership in atomic-electric power.

But Wilson, who has a 9-3 mark now, has turned in one good game after another. And in Monday night's triumph, which kept the runner-up Chicagoans 5 1-2 games behind the leading Yankees, Philley also was a prominent figure. He scored two runs, got a hit, a sacrifice and played both right field and first base. Chicago racked up three Baltimore pitchers, including Fornieles, for 10 hits.

Highlights of this acreage reserve program, according to Se-

1. A maximum of 50 per cent of the farmer's allotment or "base," or 50 acres, whichever is larger, may be included in the acreage reserve plan. The "base" applies to corn, and is the 1956 corn allotment multiplied by 1.178 to bring the 1956 crop up to 51 million acres for the nation. Reduce Crop, 15 Per Cent

2. A farmer must put at least 10 per cent of his "allotment or 'base" acreage, or five acres, whichever is larger, into the acreage reserve contract to qualify for the program.

3. Under the acreage reserve program a !armer must reduce his crop 15 per cent under the "allotment" or "base."

4. Crops which go under the acreage reserve plan must not have been grazed or harvested in the 1956 crop year, and must be cut or destroyed and the land left

5. The rate of payment is figured at 60 per cent of the 1956 preliminary price support level for the county. The preliminary price support rates have not yet been announced.

6. County and township committees appraise the productivity of each farm, figure it in relation to the average yield per bushel and fix the total production destroyed.
7. Deadline for cutting corn and soybeans taken out of production under the program is July 31. 8. Where crops have been destroyed by natural causes, as by recent floods in east-central Illi-

HOW STALEY CAN GIVE YOU

A Pound Of PORK For Every Pound Of PRO-LASS

The chart tells the story. Test after test, from leading agricultural colleges to our own test farm and thousands of everyday hog-lots, shows what the Pro-Lass type supplement formula does

These sensational weight gains result in large measure from the high supplemental value of Pro-Lass. But the big secret of Pro-Lass, that makes it "worth its weight in meat," is the way it steps up your hogs' capacity to turn corn into pork.

The MEAT-TYPE Supplement For ANY Hogs

You get still another big Pro-Lass advantage:—Pro-Lass is the MEAT-TYPE feed! This is important to your profits. The market for lard is vanishing. Housewives are demanding leaner cuts of meat. Packers are paying for meat-type hogs-putting a penalty on "lardy" animals.

That's another place where Pro-Lass can help you. It's the ideal feed for meat-type breeds. BUT-even when your hogs are of lard rather than meat breeds, you can help get more red meat by FEEDING for it.

Plan your hog program around Pro-Lass. It can help you to pork profits two ways—with its "pound-for-pound" added pork production, and by helping you grow out leaner, meatier hogs that command better prices.

Let PRO-LASS Help Your Hogs Look Like This:

A meat-type breed, plus the ideal meat-type supplement, Pro-Lass, is the surest way to get the type of hogs that command market-topping prices. But — if your hogs aren't meat-type in breed, then at least get all the extrameat advantages that feeding can produce. Either way, no matter what the breeding of your hogs, feed Pro-Lass according to directions — for the most meat, the minimum relative amount of fat.

You Make Your Pork Profits on the PRO-LASSI See for Yourself! If you're going to know hew you m money on hogs, you've got to figure you use 11 to 12 bushels bushel, to make 100 pounds of pork. Corn alone would cost you $18.00—and at $17.50 a cwt. for pork, you'd

FOR EXAMPLE, AT JUNE 1ST PRICES, YOU COULD:

Feed 51/2 bushels of corn.....$8.25 Feed 40 pounds of Pro-Lass.... 2.20° TOTAL FEED COST, per 100 lbs. of pork

With hogs at $17.50, you would make $7.05 per —and turn a 50c loss into a $7.05 profit, with Pro * Pro-Lass price varies slightly by areas.
